

Title IX, Part A

Students in Transition

Did You Know?

Children living in poverty are 2-3 times more likely to be chronically absent-- and face the most harm because their community lack the resources to make up for the lost learning in school.

Catholic Charities
of Northwest Florida

Catholic Charities of Northwest Florida serves, empowers, and advocates for impoverished and vulnerable families and individuals of any race, religion or national origin across the Florida Panhandle.

Catholic Charities is a non-profit, charitable organization that helps to rebuild lives, each and every day.

Services are tailored for the unique circumstances of each person and our impact is significant and measurable.

Food services and emergency assistance are just two ways Catholic Charities can help.

Immunizations for Students in Transition

Due to the chaos that can result from unexpected and frequent moves, parents and youth in homeless situations may have difficulty keeping track of their belongings; these may include documents ordinarily required for school enrollment, such as birth certificates, health records, and immunizations. State educational agencies (SEAs) must eliminate enrollment delays caused by requirements of immunization and other health records. Procedures should be established for referring parents, guardians, and unaccompanied youth to the local liaison for assistance in obtaining necessary immunizations, or immunization and health records.

To assist with needed immunizations:

- Establish a protocol for referring students to local low-cost health clinics
- Establish school-based immunization clinics or other opportunities for on-site immunizations

"I continue to believe that if children are given the necessary tools to succeed, they will succeed beyond their wildest dreams!"

~David Vitter
Former U.S. Senator

Homeless Student Count

As of 8/30/18: 215

Immunizations are provided free for children, ages birth through 18 years, through the Vaccines for Children Program (VFC). Contact your local Health Department.

ESOL NEWS

Continued modeling, visual support, and sentence frames are needed to foster academic language development. Although a student may be proficient in social language, academic language becomes more cognitively demanding. Accommodations such as extended time continue to be vital to the academic achievements of bilingual students.
